COMMON INTERESTS

To celebrate Older Americans Month, Mrs. Greml's kindergarten class at Herman Avenue Elementary School in Auburn was joined virtually by residents from The Commons on St. Anthony for an interactive storytime recently. Residents Barb Moore, Carol Partridge and Louise Bower from The Commons each read a story to the class. "The children and adults alike enjoyed engaging with the stories by asking questions, acting out the stories, or even showing off their dance moves." The Commons said in a news release. "Between each book, the residents and students asked each other questions and were surprised to find more in common than they thought! The kindergartners surprised the residents by reading them two stories and sharing their reading skills. From the youngest to the oldest person in the room, everyone enjoyed chatting, sharing stories, and learning from one another."
